[For the Dispatch.]

Life's Music. Dear wife, there's a usic in thy voice, Although no song be sung: Its accents make my heart rejoice, Just failing from thy tongue. The sweetness of those silver y strains—spontaneous and free—
My doi: to soothes, yet still inchains
With links of melody.

There's music in thy footstep, too,
And when its sound i hear.
I feel—though thou be not in view—
A guardian angel near.
Music—in motion, word, and look—

Where does it take its rise?

I read thine answer like I read it in thine eyes. Tis in thy heart this music dwells, As in a sacred shrine. And, stealing from its tranquil cells, Of peace o'er me and mine.

ad thine answer like a book-

I thank thee for these strains so dear— These canticles of love; They raise my hope, suppress my fear, And lift me to a higher sphere, Like authems from above!

Such notes as these thou may'st prolong
When all earth's the are riven;
The music of the life's a song
Welcome amid the angel throng
Forevermore in heaven.

Apropos of the question of biennial sessions of the Legislature : An auctioneer, at a book sale here a short time since, offered two volumes together, and said, reading from the backs, "The Acis of the General Assembly of Virginia," and "Turnbull on the Diseases of the Ear" (year); when a lawyer present inquired, "Of what year?"

Eccentric John Elwyn.

ODDITIES OF MIND THAT HAD EXPRESSION IN WILL-A QUEER TESTAMENTARY DOCUMENT, BUT ONE THAT STOOD THE TEST OF THE LAW. The Hon. John Elwyn, an eccentric and thoroughly original gentleman of the old English school, died recently in Portsmouth, N. H. He was born in Bristel, England, February 1, 1801. His parents were in France just previous to his birth, and his mother having declared that she would not be the mother of a Frenchman, a small vessel was engaged to convey her across the straits at a time when a passage through the French fleet that guarded the coast could bardly be obtained. But the French Admiral threw open the blockade in consideration of the hospitalities he had received at the hands of Mrs. Elwyn's father, Governor Langdon, on the occasion of a visit to Portsmouth. Elwyn graduated at Harvard in the would pay his men in gold, or even that part Hon. Caleb Cushing.

The following is a verbatim copy of the document, and is printed precisely as it was written. The words in small capitals the laborer has purchased a house on the are pen-printed in the will in large Romas letters. Mr. Elwyn's eccentricities are mani- made in gold. per too, and slewing some sliver in each. The Jockson lode, since the above test was made, has given ores that assay from $5,000 to $40,000, gold, per ton. A stamp-mill of ten ton daily capacity has been erected at this mine, and will be in operation during the present month. Over 200 tons of this gold quartz ore is now on the dump, from mines on the Sangre de Christo, which will be reduced next season. This gold belt, as far as prospected, extends from Moseo Pass twenty miles north. South from Del Norte thirty miles lie the gold districts of Alamoza, Summit, Telluric and Decatur. Perhaps South Mountain, in Summit district, affords the best yield of gold in that vicinity. A correspondent of Denver paper says that it is one solid mas of gold quartz. Mr. Harry Adsit, one of the returned miners, who has prospected in the San Juan country for the last three years, corroborates this statement. He says that South Mountain is about two miles long. and there is but one true fissure vein in it; yet all of it-the whole mass-produces gold more or less rich. It is upon this mountain that the famous Little Annie lode is located, one balf of which was recently sold to parties in New York for $300,000. This mine, averaged, will run about forty dollars per tor. Silverion is one hundred miles west from Del Norte, in San Juan county, and fifty or sixty miles south from Silverton are the La Plata gold-mines, ituated on the La Plata river. There s a gold bar running along the margin of that stream, about five miles of which has een taken up, and last season a considerable amount of placer-mining was done. A system of ditches has been constructed, and next season promises some lively placer-mining at this point. But it is to the quartz lodes that the miner looks for permanent, reliable returns, after ail, and here we have the Comstock mine, discovered by Captain John Moss, an old California miner, which, perhaps, is the richest gold mine on the continent. One hundred pounds of gold-quartz ore, taken from this mine in October last, netted $1,500, while ore taken out in the following month ran $120,000 per ton.

About twenty mines are being worked in the San Juan country this season, and their winter product is variously estimated at from $600,000 to $1,000,000. THE SILVER QUESTION IN SAN FRANCISCO-How THE THING WORKS .- [From the San Francisco Chronicle]-A contractor who may have occasion to borrow ten thousand dollars to carry on his work will receive that lowing property to satisfy sundry distress-warrants. sum in gold. A large portion of it will be paid out to workingmen, in sums of from ten to thirty dollars to each. It is not probable, however, that the average contractor same class with George Bancroft and the legal-tender. Workingmen, as a rule, would FEATHER BEIS, TRUNKS, TABLES, COOKING-STOVES, CHAIRS, WATER-COOL-legal-tender. Workingmen, as a rule, would FRS. Just previous to his death he was reading not think of otjecting to payment entirely in silver, although a portion of each week's TINNERS' and STONE-CUTTERS' TOOLS, wages must be turned into gold at whatever CITY and STATE LIQUOR LICENSE. expense. Even when the discount on silver was less than two per cent., landlords, in many cases, required payment in gol!. If instalment plan, his payments must be casional deposits at a savings bank ment:

We then John Elwyn of Portsmouth is these must be made in gold. The position of the grocer and ignal dealer is somethese must be made in gold. The position of Rockingham and State of New Hampshire being of Bound mind and memory but now seventy years old, I mean this instrument for my Last Wilk and Testine instrument for my Last Wilk and Testine seems to be a little estate worth the gathering in of; careless it is to one through my whole life of money wickedly careless you may say if you choose though I never threw it very wilfully away I shall die much poorer than I might: for full very full my head always has been from my earliest baby-head always has been from my earliest baby-head always has been from my earliest babythese must be made in gold. The pcgreenback States. Where there are two cur-greenback States. The other rising and bood of something or other else and never of rencies-one standard, the other rising and hood of something or other else and never of money, and I never could do two things at one time: still and not with standing I never to business-man is obliged to admit the clement of change into his daily transthe element of chance into his daily transpay duties in gold, that he must pay freight in gold, and pay for goods in foreign markets in the same currency; but he must sell for greenbacks in the East and for silver in this State, and the value of either of these than fifty thousand dollars is righter nearer currencies is constantly changing. Two months ago the discount on silver in this city was from one and a half to two per cent.; since, it has been from four to five per a year; though Ism going if I live another cent., but at present it is a trifle less than twelve month to spend a few thousands on four per cent. What it will be two months hence is a matter of conjecture. Meantime silver will be the poor man's currency, and gold the rich man's. All small transactions will be liquidated with silver, all heavy ones with gold. The contractor who borrows ten thousand dollars in gold to carry on his work will sell that currency for silver, and pay his men and small bills in the latter currency. The men who receive this will, in many cases, have to buy gold, paying therefor one per cent, more than the contractor would receive when he sold the gold. The money-broker is the only person then though none of us is rich but there who gains by this condition of things. The discount is a tax on industry, and as such hundred thousand dollars amongst the whole | becomes a subject for the immediate considbundred thousand dollars amongst the whole at my death even if soon, they are not like to be in want nor am I a man of fortune, I will be in want nor am I a man of fortune, I will already shown that the Government is in a laready shown tha measure responsible for this discount in silver in consequence of its attempt to make less than a dollar's worth of bullion a dollar every year of her life to ELIZA BECK of this for trade purposes. It stamps forty-four village the daughter of John Beck: she is cents worth of silver with a half dollar stamp, and seems to expect people to take it for its face, not for its actual value. We do not see how the problem is to be solved until the Government conforms to the laws of trade. Our bankers will be compelled to many, and wherever they have correspondents. Our merchants must abide by the currency which is at par where they purchase goods. Gold, therefore, must remain the standard, but silver must be made as good as gold. Any attempt to introduce two currencies of different standards of value will operate against the industrial classes, who mostly need the protection of law. Capltal in all such cases can take care of itself. Bankers readily combine on any matter of importance to their general business. Landlords have no trouble in establishing the custom of paying rents in gold. But retail street. mh1-d&w
